

Call for applications for The John and Petakin Mildenhall Award

The award is made biennially to outstanding young researchers in the field of Plant Pathology. The research may be either of an applied or a basic nature. The aim of this award is to encourage and award South African PhD students who are making a considerable contribution to the field of Plant Pathology in South Africa. The award is made biennially to outstanding young researchers in the field of Plant Pathology. The research may be either of an applied or a basic nature. Applicants should demonstrate academic excellence and potential. The Award will consist of a cash prize (R5000) together with a certificate, which will be presented at the formal dinner during the biennial SASPP congress. Click here for more information